

6516209239.txt

XM radio is the next generation of personal service. The service they provide to myself and countless others is outstanding. Not only have they found a niche in the entertainment area of radio, but are able to serve their customers with accurate, up to date information on traffic and weather. Any attempt to discredit or undermine their innovative services would be ludicrous. Please, stop wasting time on trying to stop technology that makes my life easier.